INTRODUCTION

The Temporary Release Programs' policies and procedures are contained in Title 7, NYS Official Compilation of Codes, Rules and Regulations, Chapter XII, subchapter A, Parts 1900 – 1952. New York State Department of Corrections and Community Supervision (DOCCS) Directive 7001, Temporary Release programs, outlines the purpose, authorization and policy to DOCCS correctional facilities through the establishment and maintenance of the Temporary Release Programs Rules and Regulations.

Temporary Release programs continue to provide a viable and effective transition for inmates returning to their families and communities, while preserving public safety.

Executive Order 9, which was signed by Governor Spitzer in March of 2007, and subsequently continued by Governor Cuomo, precludes those inmates with certain violent felony convictions from participating in Temporary Release programs if, upon the review of the specific elements involved in the act, one or more of the elements present is bared by the Order.

2016 OVERVIEW

Participants	1,244
Absconders	7
Arrests (Absconders & Temporary Release Arrests)	13
Violent Felony Arrests/Convictions (By Participants)	1
Unemployment Percent	16.7%

APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS

There were 22,396 Work Release applications and 786 other Temporary Release program applications (Furlough, Leave of Absence, Industrial Training Leave, Education Leave and Community Services Leave) processed at the facility level in 2016.

There were 15,351 Presumptive Work Release Comprehensive Alcohol and Substance Abuse Treatment (PWR CASAT) program applications processed at the facility level in 2016.

The advancement of all applications is as follows:

Total Applications*	Applications Eligible for a Decision	Facility Approved	Central Office Approved

* An application must be processed in order for an inmate to receive a decision. Total number reflects all applications initiated at the facility level including: multiple applications per applicant; applications subsequently withdrawn by applicant; cancelled applications; applicants statutorily ineligible.

**Inmates determined eligible to receive a denial/approval review in accordance to DOCCS policy and Temporary Release Programs Rules and Regulations.

***Number not available.

ABSCONDENCE AND ARRESTS

ABSCONDERS: There were 7 absconders in 2016, of those 5 were returned to DOCCS custody. All 7 absconders were in Work Release.

DOCCS is committed to apprehending absconders as quickly as possible. The cooperation between the DOCCS Office of Special Investigations, DOCCS Community Supervision staff, New York State and local police agencies, and the Division of Criminal Justice Services continues to be positive. The majority of absconders were returned to DOCCS custody.

ABSCONDER ARRESTS (Temporary Release absconders who are arrested): There were 0 absconders arrested in 2016.

TEMPORARY RELEASE ARRESTS (Temporary Release participants who are arrested): There were 13 Temporary Release arrests in 2016. By December 31, 2016, 10 were returned to DOCCS custody. The other 3 remained in the custody of other jurisdictions.

In total, 13 inmates were arrested while in continuous Temporary Release programs in 2016. There were 1 violent crime arrests/convictions in 2016. A complete accounting of Participants, Absconders, Arrested Absconders, and Temporary Release Arrests (TR ARR) from 2000 to 2016 is as follows:

Year	Participants	Absconders	Arrested Absconders	TR ARR

2016	1,235	7	0	13

TEMPORARY RELEASE REMOVALS

More than one quarter of the participants in Temporary Release programs are drug offenders. This accounts for most of the removals, abscondences, and arrests of the Temporary Release program. Inmates are regularly tested for drug, alcohol, and intoxicant use, which allows DOCCS to identify violators as soon as possible and to initiate intervention and therapy for these individuals so that their eventual return to the community can be positive.

Of the 1,235 participants in continuous Temporary Release programs in 2016, there were 83 removed from the program. Of these, 9 were disciplinary, 32 programmatic violations, 22 were drug related removals, 3 for criminal arrests, 7 were contraband items, 7 for eligibility issues (warrants and medical), and 3 inmates absconded.

In 1994, the Relapse program was initiated to allow inmates in Temporary Release that tested positive for drug/alcohol/intoxicant use to waive a disciplinary hearing and agree to participate in a minimum 60-day Relapse program at designated Work Release and general confinement facilities. Inmates return to active full-time Temporary Release participation, after successful completion of the Relapse Program.

In 2016, 27 inmates were provided the opportunity for the Relapse program so they could return to full participation in the continuous Temporary Release program. At the end of 2016, 9 remained in Relapse and 18 returned to Temporary Release status. Subsequently, of the 18 that returned, 6 were released to Community Supervision, 5 were removed from Work Release due to technical violations, and 7 remained in Work Release.

ELIGIBILITY FOR TEMPORARY RELEASE PROGRAMS

In order to be considered for Temporary Release programs, the NYS Correction Law requires that an inmate must be within two years of his or her earliest possible release date to Community Supervision. The inmate must also attain the requisite score on a point rating system. The inmate's present offense(s) cannot be a homicide or sex-related crime. Inmate's with current specific violent felony convictions must be reviewed to determine an applicant's eligibility to apply. Inmate's with current homicide convictions who claim there is a history of domestic violence abuse by his/her victim may also be reviewed to determine eligibility to apply.

TYPES OF TEMPORARY RELEASE

The Correction Law currently authorizes DOCCS to operate the following Temporary Release programs:

*WORK RELEASE

Allows inmates to leave a facility for up to 14 hours a day to work in the community.

Day Reporting status allows inmates to leave the Work Release facility for an extended period of 7 days to reside and work in the community.

**FURLOUGH

Allows inmates to leave a facility for up to 7 days to maintain and strengthen family ties, or for another appropriate purpose.

*INDUSTRIAL TRAINING LEAVE

Allows inmates to leave a facility for up to 14 hours in a day to obtain vocational training.

*EDUCATIONAL RELEASE

Allows inmates to leave a facility to pursue academic goals for up to 14 hours in a day.

***COMMUNITY SERVICES LEAVE

Allows inmates to leave a facility to do volunteer work or to attend religious or athletic events.

**LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Allows inmates to leave a facility to receive medical or dental treatment when the treatment is absolutely necessary and not available within the DOCCS correctional system. Also, permits inmates to make end-of-life or funeral visits when a close relative is sick or passes away.

Statistical information on the number of inmates who participated in each program may be found in TABLE V at the end of this report.

* Continuous Temporary Release programs available at facilities noted on pages 6 & 7

** Short-term Temporary Release programs available at all facilities except Shock Incarceration.

*** Community Services Leave is available as a continuous or a short-term program.

CONTINUOUS TEMPORARY RELEASE PROGRAMS

Continuous Temporary Release programs are defined as those programs, including Educational Release (EDR), Industrial Training Leave (ITL), continuous Community Services Leave (CSL), and Work Release (WR) which involve the daily release of inmates into the community.

Of the 1,235 inmates in continuous Temporary Release programs in 2016, 1,073 inmates participated in the Work Release program. The following facilities offered one or more continuous Temporary Release programs in 2016.

Albion WR/CSL	Female	Participants reside in specified counties in upstate New York. In 1979, Albion (at the time a co-ed facility) added a 10 bed female Work Release component to its existing 40 bed male Work Release program. In 1986, when the facility became an all-female institution, the available space for Work Release and Community Services Leave was expanded to 54 beds.
Edgecombe WR	Female	Participants reside in areas that include New York City, Long Island, Mid-Hudson region, Westchester and Rockland counties, the Catskill region, the Capital District, and Northeastern New York State. Current Work Release capacity is 50 beds.
Fishkill WR	Male	Participants reside in the Mid-Hudson region of the state or Westchester and Rockland counties. The Fishkill Work Release program housed eight participants in 1979. By 1982, the program expanded to 35 beds. Current capacity is 76 beds.
Hudson WR	Male	Participants reside in the Capital District and Northeastern New York State. A Work Release program was developed at Hudson in 1981 with 30 beds to accommodate inmates from the Capital District who wanted to participate in 1979. By 1982, the program expanded to 35 beds. Current capacity is 40 beds.
Hudson ITL	Male	Participants may reside in any area of New York State. In 1982, the Industrial Training Leave program was transferred from Mt. McGregor Correctional Facility to Hudson Correctional Facility. The program was expanded from 20 beds to 30 beds in 1983. The inmates in this program travel to the DOCCS warehouse in Menands where they work under the supervision of civilian employees. In September 2000, this program moved to its present site at Hudson Correctional Facility with a capacity of 55 beds.
Lincoln WR	Male	Participants reside in Queens, Nassau, Suffolk, Bronx, Kings, New York and Richmond counties. Lincoln was originally an Open Date-Own Program (ODOP) facility. It was converted to a Work Release facility in 1989 with a capacity of 408 beds. Current capacity is 284 beds.

Rochester WR/CSL	Male	Participants reside in the cities of Rochester, Buffalo, Watertown, Syracuse and surrounding counties. The Rochester Correctional Facility was expanded from 40 to 60 beds in 1983. Current capacity for Work Release and Community Services Leave is 82 beds.
Rochester ITL	Male	Participants may reside in any area of New York State. In 2014, an Industrial Training Leave program for asbestos-abatement was established. Inmates work on abatement projects in the community. Current capacity is 8 beds.

The above residence requirements are subject to change depending on population levels and the need to keep all facilities at capacity.

Industrial Training Leave is available at Hudson Correctional Facility. Inmates commute daily to the DOCCS warehouse in Menands where they work and learn about the distribution industry. Some participants in this program learn how to take inventory and complete bills of lading. Others learn how to operate forklifts and repair furniture, and some work with the civilian staff to learn business office procedures.

Rochester Correctional Facility has an Industrial Training Leave program for asbestos training. Inmates are provided the opportunity to earn an Asbestos Handler certification. They are assigned to work on abatement projects in the community under the auspices of DOCCS Division of Industries, Corcraft Abatement program staff.

Inmate's participating in the Community Services Leave program may work with civilians on municipal projects or for not-for-profit organizations. They may also assist in community beautification projects, arts festivals, or Special Olympics events.

Inmates who are placed in the Work Release program after successfully completing the Presumptive Work Release Comprehensive Alcohol and Substance Abuse Treatment program are mandated to participate weekly in a community substance abuse treatment program on an outpatient status. Therefore, inmates are provided ongoing services to continue to address their treatment needs.

Work Release participants may be considered for Day Reporting status when they are within 6 months to their earliest release date and meet other specific criteria. Lincoln Correctional Facility is a male Day Reporting site. Edgecombe Correctional Facility is a female Day Reporting site. Male Day Reporting participants at Fishkill Correctional Facility and Hudson Correctional Facility report to Community Supervision area offices. Rochester Correctional Facility is a male Day Reporting site and Albion Correctional Facility is a female Day Reporting site. Albion Correctional Facility and Rochester Correctional Facility Day Reporters may also be assigned to report to Community Supervision area offices. The merger of Department of Corrections and NYS Division of Parole resulted in DOCCS being able to increase the number of Day Reporting sites. Inmates are now able to report to area Community Supervision offices in the cities of Albany, Binghamton, Buffalo, Elmira, Poughkeepsie and Peekskill.

INMATE EARNINGS

In 1982, 2,080 Work Release inmates earned $2,334,666.00. In 2016, 1,073 Work Release inmates earned a net income of $2,669,081.12. They also paid $788,777.44 in Federal, State, and local taxes. Also, they sent $205,802.57 in support to their families, thereby reducing public support.

A total of 80 inmates were Day Reporters in 2016. The inmates' net earnings were $283,773.50 and they paid $67,803.44 in taxes.

In total, the 1,153 participants in Work Release/Day Reporting earned a total net earnings of $2,952,854.62 and paid $856,580.88 in Federal, State and local taxes. Approved deductions from a Work Release inmate's net earnings are limited and directly related to employment, travel, food, shelter, clothing, and administrative expenses. Therefore, inmates saved a combined total of $1,734,944.19. Inmates savings are returned to each inmate when they are released from custody.

In 2016, at any time, 395 inmates participated in Work Release. As wage earners and tax payers, Work Release inmates contributed to their community tax base, thereby alleviating some costs to tax payers.

Since 1995, Temporary Release inmates, specifically Work Release and Day Reporting inmates, earned $162,436,431.53, paid $44,976,870.36 in Federal, State, and local taxes and inmates saved $56,024,971.88.

APPENDIX - Historical Development of Temporary Release Programs

The Temporary Release program of DOCCS began in 1970 as a pilot project to confirm if the concept had merit. Inmates were granted the privilege of Temporary Release programs in order to provide them with a gradual transition from incarceration to Parole. In 1970, 55 males and 15 females were released to employment in the community from Attica, Auburn, and Bedford Hills Correctional Facilities.

In 1972, the Legislature reviewed the results of this experiment and decided to extend authorization for another two years. Educational release and furloughs were authorized as well. In 1974, the Temporary Release Programs were again authorized with Community Services Leave, Educational Training and Leave of Absence added to the list of Temporary Release Programs.

The first minimum security community based Temporary Release facilities offered these programs in 1973, which represented a radical departure from the traditional Work Release facility. Located in urban areas, these facilities were geared to release, not confinement. By the end of 1974, there were 7 such facilities in Bushwick (Brooklyn), Fulton (Bronx), Bayview, Lincoln, Parkside, Edgecombe (Manhattan) and Rochester.

In 1976, a grant was obtained from the Vera Institute of Justice for a 16 week trial of a point score selection system for Temporary Release candidates. This system is still in place and is an effective way to objectively review applications in their initial stages.

In 1977, the New York State Legislature revised Article 26 of the Correction Law, which set strict eligibility criteria for Temporary Release selection and also mandated additional levels of application review. This resulted in drastic reduction in the total Work Release population, prompting the closure of 2 Work Release facilities which were subsequently converted to general confinement facilities.

In response to the corresponding low number of applications received from inmates for Temporary Release, a grant from the National Institute of Corrections (NIC) was secured to develop strategies to identify suitable candidates for Work Release and encourage the submission of applications.

In 1980, Fulton Correctional Facility was reconverted to a Work Release facility. In 1982, Fishkill Work Release inmate population increased. In 1986, the population of Albion Work Release facility increased when Albion Correctional Facility was converted to a female only inmate population. In 1987, Queensboro Correctional Facility was converted to a Work Release facility. Also, during this year eligibility for Temporary Release was changed from 12 months to a Parole Eligibility Date to 24 months. As a result of these changes, the Work Release population grew from 2,736 in 1972 to 5,067 in 1987. In 1990, Lincoln Correctional Facility was converted to a Work Release facility with a capacity of 403. A 148 bed female Work Release program was implemented at Bayview in 1991. In 1992, the Orleans Work Release program (70 beds) was transferred to the newly opened Buffalo Work Release (132 beds). Also in 1990, the Comprehensive Alcohol and Substance Abuse Treatment (CASAT) program was implemented wherein CASAT participants were to be reviewed for “presumptive” approval for Work Release since the CASAT program’s Phase II component consists of Work Release participation. In 2011, Fulton and Buffalo Correctional Facilities were closed. Fulton Work Release inmates transferred to Lincoln Correctional Facility and Buffalo Work Release inmates were transferred to Rochester Correctional Facility. In 2013, due to the closure of Bayview Correctional Facility, the female Work Release program was transferred to Edgecombe Correctional Facility.

During 2015, there were 6 facilities that offered Temporary Release programs: Albion, Edgecombe, Fishkill, Hudson, Lincoln and Rochester. These facilities continue to offer the opportunity for inmates to prepare for a successful transition from incarceration to their families and the communities they will reside in upon release.
